

Sensing the World

Portfolio Submission

Your professional portfolio will be hosted on Github and contain copies of your completed activities and development for your project.

Submission:

You will submit the link to your portfolio by October 11, 2026 to the appropriate spot on Gradescope. All elements of the portfolio must remain accessible through the end of finals week.

Grading:

Your portfolio will be be graded on the following criteria:

Criteria	Points Available
Portfolio Page
Content: Appropriate content including sections such as Interests, Projects, Links, Resume, and Experiences.	15
Clarity: Easy to read layout (lettering, spacing, contrast), grammar, spelling, clean formatting. Appearance is accessible to diverse audiences.	5
Creativity: Use of color, use of diagrams and visuals, eye-catching, professional.	5
FYRE Repo
Repo README.md: Clear description of the content in the repo and appropriate links. A picture of your project would be a nice feature.	15
Reflections: Folder contains all 3 reflections from the "Sensing the World" Module	15
Programming Activities: Folder contains the code from the programming activities done during class. README.md in the folder describing what each file name corresponds to is present.	20
Project: All code, development files and presentation slides should be present. README.md in the folder describing what each file name corresponds to is present.	25
TOTAL	100

Sensing the World

To provide partial credit, the following table quantifies the metrics of success in satisfying the requirements for each grading rubric criteria.

Complete and Requirements Satisfied. (Full points)	Attempted with minor issues. (75% of points possible)	Attempted with Issues. (50% of points possible)	Attempted with Serious Issues. (25% of points possible)	Not attempted or substantial issues. (0% of points possible)
Well thought out, limited room for improvement.	Minor gaps or issues with the completeness of requirements or quality of satisfying the requirements.	Noticeable gaps or issues with the completeness of requirements or quality of satisfying the requirements but the objective of the criteria is still clear.	Significant gaps or issues with the completeness of requirements or quality of satisfying the requirements. Substantial work is needed to meet the requirements of the criteria, but some resemblance is present.	Unable to interpret the satisfaction of the criteria based on the content submission due to excessive gaps or quality.